Mike Clifford, Tom Shea, and Dave Dunn tried to kill Mayor McComb, of Lima, O., with bowlders, Saturday night, for sending them up repeatedly. Clifford was wounded, but will recover. McComb and Dunn arrested.

Next question to be decided by Supreme Court on the Scott law tax is whether those saloonists who did not pay before the law was decided unconstitutional can not be compelled to pay the half of the second year's assessment.

The Savannah Echo, published by colored men, says: "Give all the children an industrial education of some kind, and give an intelligent labor organization, and if anybody dares to deny it will be tarred and feathered."

Dennis Kearney, it is announced, will run on the Workmen's ticket for Governor of California next year, and says "it will be a magnificent campaign." The workmen are singularly unfortunate in allowing blatherers to get to the front to misrepresent them.

The growth of Kansas City is wonderful. In 1870 the population was 32,000; in 1873, 40,000; in 1878, 51,000; in 1880, 66,000; in 1882, 85,000; in 1883, 93,000; in 1884, 113,000; and in 1885, 123,000. If this rate of progress is kept up the population will be 200,000 easily in 1890.

The Chicago Tribune, in a well considered article on the advance of cholera in France, Spain and Italy, in 1885, as compared with its advance in 1884, concludes that the progress of the disease is much slower this year than it was last, and that there is now no reason for alarm in this country this year.

Mr. Beecher declares his belief that evolution is laying the ground for more powerful revivals of religion than have ever yet been seen. The orthodox believer who has followed Beecher's sermons would certainly expect different doctrines about evolution than he has been enunciating, but such results could be attained.

After thirty years of successful work in editing and publishing the Lima Gazette, Mr. C. P. Parmenter retires, having sold the paper to Mr. A. W. Campbell, of Bellefontaine. Mr. Parmenter has assisted and witnessed the growth of Lima from a muddy little village to a thriving and prosperous little city—the first-class in enterprise and push. Mr. Campbell has had experience, we believe, in newspaper enterprises in Lima some years ago.

There is hardly any room for doubt that the refunding of the $1,240,000 of Ohio State bonds has been so manipulated as to yield a big profit to a Cincinnati syndicate, while of right it should have been attended to by the State officers and a great many thousands of dollars thereby saved to the treasury. Unfortunately those who will reap the profit are in a situation to say, like Rose Tweed, "what are you going to do about it?"—Cincinnati Post.

Chunney M. Dewey says the administration will play goodly games until the fall election, and hold the office under no "democratic" as tempting bit of toasted cheese to irritate them to renewed effort. There is evidently some truth in this. In Bryan, O., for instance there are several candidates for postmaster. Congressman Hill will make no recommendation for the place until after the coming October election. This will keep all the Democratic aspirants right on the war path. In aid of the ticket, whereas if he should appoint now, he would have only one Democrat on the war path, while the sixty disappointed aspirants would sulk in their tents.—Sunday Journal.

Mansfield is happy in securing the intermediate State Prison, located there. The prison will be one of the finest in the country, and modeled much after the institution at Elmira, N. Y., with added improvements. It will be distinctly a reformatory institution where all prisoners never before sentenced in this or any other State will be confined. By special provision in the bill for its location there will be no contract labor. The capacity of the institution will be 600 prisoners to be increased in time to accommodate 1,000. An farm of 150 acres will be worked by the inmates. It was the original intention to supply the cost of building the prison by 10 per cent. of the Scott liquor law revenue, and $35,000 was raised in that way, but since that law has been declared unconstitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court $50,000 has been appropriated for the building. The legislature has appropriated the $35,000 obtained from the Scott law is now before the Supreme Court.

THE MURDERER CAUGHT.

Arthur J. Grover, the supposed murderer of Granville G. Loomis, captured in Wisconsin.

Sheriff G. N. Brown passed through here on the noon train on Wednesday having in charge Grover, the man who has been charged with the murder of Granville G. Loomis, from Ashland county to Stony Ridge, where the fatal discovery of the body was made on Saturday May 9th, by the finding of the mangled remains of Loomis. The particulars of this crime are yet fresh in the memory of the readers of the JOURNAL and need not be recapitulated here.

After nearly five weeks of unremitting effort Sheriff Brown, of this county, and Deputy Sheriff Squires, of Ashland county, have captured Grover at Menomonie, Wisconsin, who was flying through that place with the back-board and pony, his name is Loomis, also Loomis' trunk. These facts would seem to leave no possibility of a doubt of Grover's guilt. He has made no confession, nor explanation of how he came in possession of Loomis' rig and trunk. Deputy Sheriff Squires is driving the rig across the country while Sheriff Brown took charge of the prisoner and brought him through by rail. These two officers and Deputy Sheriff Dunn and Prosecuting Attorney Parker are entitled to much credit for their untiring efforts of the past five weeks to bring to justice the perpetrator of such a cold blooded murder.

Following is related a strange dream in connection with this tragedy, which illustrates the peculiar operations of the mind when all the other faculties are stilled in slumber.

OAK HARBOR, June 23.—Rev. Dr. A. J. Ayres, of this city, attending the Conference, tells a strange story about the murdered man found at Stony Ridge. The body was found a few rods from his church and was in the place in which he was found. It seemed to him that the body was found on Saturday night previous a lady in the place had a dream in which she saw three men on the road parading. Two were trying to get the other to go with them. He objected, and they shot him. Then they left the body on the edge of the land belonging to this lady and her husband. The frightful dream awoke her and she awoke her husband and told him. He said "nonsense," and told her to go to sleep, which she did, and dreamed the same thing over and over again. She was so impressed with the occurrence that in the morning she went to the spot indicated in her dream, but saw nothing. Had she gone ten feet farther she would have found the body. The next Saturday the body was discovered. The lady described the dress and appearance of the three men and her description of the body, which was given by the Ashland county people of Loomis and the man that was with him, more highly esteemed than she was, has been authenticated.

Joseph Benson Forkner, who has again been nominated for Governor of Ohio, is too well known to need extended notice. He was born in Ohio. He entered the army when only sixteen years old, and served with honor until he was closed. He was educated at Wesleyan University, Delaware, O., and at Cornell College, Y. He and his wife are of Methodist stock, and are both members of the Walnut Hill Methodist Episcopal Church, Lima, O. Mr. Forkner is one of the most active and efficient ladies in the membership. There are no people in Cincinnati who are more highly esteemed than this educated and refined Christian family. Mr. Forkner is a thorough temperance man, both in person and in his views of public policy. He is a public health officer, and a better friend than he. Indeed, he is a man who knows what poverty and toil are, and his personal experience, as well as the influence of his nature, make him a friend of all the lowly. His generosity knows no bounds. We have known him for years, and intimately, and we speak with freedom and confidence of his personal knowledge. If it shall turn out that his nominees are men of as much culture, dignity, and incorruptible principle as he, Ohio will be fortunate in having a governor every way worthy of her.

A friend sends us a copy of the Western Christian Advocate containing the above mention of Judge Forkner. We had the pleasure of meeting Judge Forkner and his estimable wife two years ago in Cincinnati and can heartily endorse all that is said of them in the above paragraph. He is too good entirely to be placed in the position in which we find him at this time. Bad associates have blasted the hopes and character of very many good men.

Teaching Temperance. (Boston Herald.) We shall look forward with considerable interest to the result of the system of scientific temperance instruction in the public schools. The Spartans used to warn their young men of the evils of intemperance by forcing the Helot slaves to drink to the extent of drunkenness, and then make a public exhibition of them while in the condition, and it has also been a custom with some temperance lecturers to have them upon the platform what they have termed a "fringe" of wine, and without in any way wishing to detract from the benefit of the proposed plan, it must be admitted that intemperance is frequently found among the ranks of the training and has been more than sufficient to convince them of the evils of such a practice. Some of the ablest and brightest men of the world have been known to be slaves to the vice of excessive drinking, although in their sober moments, and on theoretical grounds, none would be more ready to denounce the pernicious effects of this habit.

LUCKY ITEMS. It is raining once more, and the ground is very wet for it has rained a great deal the past week. The farmers are hindered in their work of cultivating and properly attending to their crops.

The village is growing some. New buildings going up. Mr. George Kothe has about all the materials on the ground for a new house and the foundation wall is finished for it. Mr. John Fahle is pushing the work along on his new building, which will add much to that side of Main street.
